George Morrow, of Salem, amateur radio broadcaster and receiver, accompanied Donald B. MacMillan, famous Arctic explorer, on his expedition to the polar region. Morrow attended a convention of the Ohio amateurs, and was heard on the inside track for the first time by MacMillan's representatives.

During a recent trip to the North Pole Morrow was in constant communication with him, and sent him a message from Washingtonville. At the present time he converses with the Byrd expedition, and last night, from 11:30 to midnight was in constant touch with it.

To Start In June

Morrow attended the Cleveland-Columbian County association meeting and banquet, at which MacMillan was expected to speak. The noted explorer was unable to attend, but sent representatives, who from the local operator discussed possibilities of his entering the expedition to the Arctic regions which will start next June.

At the radio convention, held at Hotel Winton Saturday night, Morrow won first honors in a reception contest, receiving 45 words in international Morse code a minute. More than 400 Ohio amateurs participated in the competition.

Morrow is employed with the C. L. and Company as a radio technician.

GERMANY ASKS BOMBING BAN

League, However, Does
Not Favor Plan;
Navies Up

Geneva, April 24.—Germany's proposal that bombing by airplanes be forbidden in future warfare was rejected today by the League of Nations preparatory disarmament commission. The vote was 23 to five.

While the commission continues to take up various suggestions of the powers the conference is still dominated by the speech of the American diplomat, Hugh Gibson, calling upon the nations to cut down their navies.

It was reported that a brand new formula for naval reduction may be forwarded by the Japanese to supplement the proposals already offered by the United States.

If a sea parity is arranged later this year it probably would include America, England, Japan, France and Italy, as those are the world powers with the biggest navies.

There would probably be four or possibly five sets of suggestions before the conference upon which to work out a common treaty.

Bootlegging Gang
Of City

Cleveland, April 24.—Two dynamite bombs, exploding in front of the homes of two Cleveland policemen early today, voiced a grim warning and an open defiance from the city's underworld.

One bomb was exploded in front of an apartment where Police Sergeant Patrick J. Holland had lived about a month ago, authorities say there is no question but that the blast was aimed at him.

The second explosion came an hour later and damaged the home of Police Captain William A. McMaster, on the east side, to the extent of about $1,000. Both officers have been active in raids on bootleggers and are known to be greatly hated and feared by certain local bootlegging rings.

Weeks Building Front

The explosion intended for Sgt. Holland tore several small frame porches from a four-suite apartment house, and threw several persons from their beds. Windows were broken in the apartment house and in houses on both sides.

The second blast, in front of Capt. McMaster's home, occurred at about 2 o'clock, according to Mrs. McMaster who had arisen to get one of her children a drink of water. The force of the detonation almost knocked her down, she related.

"Cincinnati Gang" Controls
State Government,
He Claims

Newark, O., April 23.—Martin L. Davey, of Kent, defeated Democratic candidate for governor in the 1928 election, today had come from his shell of silence which he entered at the time of his defeat, to declare that "the corrupt political control of the state government."

In a speech here last night, the man, who, on Jan. 4, climbed the inaugural platform and, shaking hands with Gov. Cooper, declared "congratulations, old man," attacked the Republican rule in Ohio and particularly aimed his darts of oratory at the director of commerce in the chief executive's cabinet.

Davey did not mention Ed Schorr by name but charged that the commerce director is the representative of the "Cincinnati Gang" in the cabinet.

At the same time Davey declared that he was not a candidate for governor at the next election, but he qualified the statement, saying he might change his mind.

Torch Slayer Crime Trail Grows Wider

SINCE connecting Henry C. Campbell, self confessed torch slayer, with Henry C. Close, believed to be his real name, an amazing record of "bluebeard" crimes is being brought to the attention of the New Jersey police. The photo (left) was forwarded from San Francisco, where Close was apprehended in 1904. One year later he had shaved the goatee off and sported a natty mustache. Now the suave fiend (right) is faced with the possibility of being connected with the axe murder of Ade Swanson in Omaha, Neb., in 1925.

FREEDOM OF SPEECH, RELIGIOUS LIBERTY DECLARED FALLACY

Senator From Utah Startles Capitol With Words;
Any State Could Ban Either Constitutional
Right, He Explains; Opinions Differ

Washington, April 24.—One of the most profound constitutional questions ever to provoke senatorial controversy was being debated by lawyers on Capitol hill today as a result of the declaration by Senator William H. King, of Utah, that there are no constitutional guarantees of free speech or religious freedom. It merely forbids congress from taking away these rights lodged in the state or the people. Most states guarantee these rights in their state constitutions. Where such guarantees are not lodged in the state constitutions, the rights do not exist.

King branded them to the senate as fallacies. He declared the constitution merely prohibited congress from destroying the rights but gave the federal government no power to enforce them. Any state, he said, could outlaw free speech, end religious freedom or terminate free assemblages if its own constitution failed to guarantee these rights.

A poll of the senate's most noted constitutional lawyers revealed a diversity of opinion among them. Senators Thomas J. Walsh of Montana, and Walter F. George of Georgia, upheld King's views. Senators William E. Borah of Idaho, Sam G. Bratton of New Mexico, and Guy T. Goff of West Virginia, disagreed with him. Their discussion of the legal point raised by King indicated there are still a

WORK PLANNED ON PLAYGROUND

Will Consider Completing Project At Meeting
During Week

Plans for the completion of a children's playground at the field west of Reilly Stadium, Mullins, to the city last year by W. H. Mullins, will be made at a meeting next week of Joe M. Kelley, manager of the Memorial Building, James H. Wilson, secretary of the Manufacturers' association, and City Engineer F. S. Barkhoff.

Installation of a concrete wading pool, swings, teeter-totters, and various other apparatus for complete equipment of the grounds is planned.

Mullins last year donated the plot for use as playground to the city, the deed being granted the Memorial building. Arrangements were made today, whereby Barkhoff, designer of the city sewage treatment plant and other civic projects will meet with Kelley and Wilson to submit an estimate of the cost of grading the ground, installing the pool and other work.

Work has been in progress for the improvement of Centennial park for baseball, a backdrop being constructed today at the main diamond. Two other diamonds, for softball will also be laid out. Kelley announces, and the regular field be used for regulation baseball.

The diamond will be scraped soon. Kelley states, and be available for use within a month.

"Well, you'll have to get a certificate of your age," the reject applicant was told.

The next day the youth appeared with the certificate, stating that a youth, Miss So-and-So was of age, and permitted by Ohio statutes to work in a factory.

"But, you've brought your sister's certificate," the assistant stated, reading over the certificate. "This isn't yours."

FARM PROBLEM DEBATES WARM IN WASHINGTON

Relief Legislation Factor
In Both Houses of Congress

DEBENTURE PLAN IS TROUBLE SPOT

Hoover Flayed Because Of Attitude Taken
On Subject

Washington, April 24.—Farm relief legislation dominated both branches of Congress today with house leaders promising passage of the first farm bill of the special session within 48 hours.

While backers of the export debenture plan were jabbing away at President Hoover for his open opposition, the house program called for the adoption of a program declared to be entirely satisfactory to him.

The house bill was opened for amendment after 5 days of exhaustive debate. Despite the expected presentation of a score of amendments and some bitter opposition, Rep. Haugen of Iowa, chairman of the agricultural committee, was confident of a final vote tomorrow.

Gigantic Market Plan

Both the old McNary-Haugen Bill with its equalization fee and the export debenture plan of the national grange were to be brought forth in the house in opposition to the so-called "Hoover program" for a gigantic cooperative marketing scheme backed by the government to the extent of $500,000,000.

Among the amendments proposed to the house bill are:

Agriculture committee amendments designed to make it impossible for cooperative farm organizations to use government money to build warehouses and marketing terminals if existing facilities can be used.

The export debenture plan, under which farmers would be paid an export bounty of some $146,000,000 annually for losses on export crops, the money to be paid out of tariff receipts. Rep. Jones of Texas planned to offer this as an optional plan in the Haugen Bill.

The old Equalization Fee Bill, to be sponsored by Reps. Cannon and Nelson, both Missouri Democrats.

AL SMITH FALLS FROM TAMMANY POLITICAL LIST

Leaders Vision Walker
Ascending to Heights of Party

New York, April 24.—Alfred E. Smith, recent Democratic presidential candidate, and overlord of Tammany hall, today was toppled off the political ladder.

John F. Curry, fighting district leader who upon at least two occasions outwardly flayed the methods of the Smith sphere of influence, today wore the headress of complete leadership in the famous political wigwam.

Curry was elected Tammany chief by 12 1-6 votes to 10 1-3 votes over Edward J. Ahearn, backed by the Smith forces. The winner replaced George W. Olvany, who recently resigned following dissatisfaction with his regime. Olvany was supported by Smith during practically all of his administration in the affairs of Tammany.

With the discarding of the brown derby—symbol of the Smith forces—the Tammany tiger put on a new skin. The Curry victory was seen as a revolution by the workers against the silkhatting methods of the old regime.

And behind the velvet of outward handshaking contacts, political observers saw the ascendancy of Mayor James J. Walker in the Democratic party at the expense of ex-Governor Smith.

Mayor Walker backed the Curry candidacy. Smith fought it. Walker's man won and it is now possible for "Smiling Jimmy" to become nationally ambitious.

Curry announced after his election that he would urge the reelection of Mayor Walker.

Police Statement

Cleveland, April 24.—Gangland moved in swift reprisal, here today against Morris "Skinny" Fuerstman, 25, and Isadore Schiller, 43, who were "taken for a ride" early this morning, beaten to death, and their bodies thrown into a ditch in Independence Village, south of here.

Contrary to first reports, the victims were not shot. The heads of both had been battered in and an ice pick had been driven into Fuerstman's skull with such force that only the handle protruded and the combined efforts of several policemen were necessary to remove it.

Both men were known to police as "racketeers." Schiller's record extends as far back as 1916 while Fuerstman also had a long record. Detectives characterized the two as "shakedown artists" who lived by tribute on gambling houses and vice dens. They are known to have worked together and were implicated in many crimes, including robberies.

Reports have it that they "hi-jacked" a liquor truck from Detroit several days ago and police believe gangsters from the latter city may have been involved in a kidnaping in Cincinnati recently and to have been connected with a Detroit criminal gang.

Detectives are searching for Fuerstman's automobile. There was no indication of a struggle at the point where the bodies were found and police are convinced that the bodies were thrown from an automobile.

"It Was a Tough Night,"
Reads Note Dropped
From Air

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., April 24.—Miss Elinor Smith landed at 2:04 p. m. this afternoon, after having been up more than 26 hours.

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., April 24.—Miss Elinor Smith, smiling seventeen-year-old aviatrix, not only had broken the world's endurance flight record for women but had surpassed the former record of Mrs. Louis McPhedre Thaden of California by more than two hours. Mrs. Thaden's record was 22 hours 3 minutes and 12 seconds.

Despite the danger of a bad stabilizer Miss Smith continued to fly her Bellanca monoplane over the field here. A plane was sent up with a sign painted on its sides warning her to remain in the vicinity of the field, for it is possible that should she be forced down and failed to land at Roosevelt Field her starting point, her record would not receive even unofficial recognition.

Miss Smith left the ground at 11:43 a. m. yesterday. She carried 210 gallons of gasoline and eight and one-half gallons of oil besides a liberal supply of food and drink. She had formerly held the record at slightly over 13 hours, a mark she set in the bitter cold weather last January with an open cockpit biplane. When Mrs. Thaden broke that mark and stayed up a few minutes more than 22 hours, Miss Smith vowed she would win back her honors.

Battles With Control

She did not win them, however, without a fight for, about an hour before she surpassed Mrs. Thaden's record, she dropped a note which read:

Cruiser

Brest, France, April 24.—The magic name of Foch, that carried the allied armies to victory in 1918, today went down to the sea on the bow of a 10,000-ton cruiser. The launching of this man of war brings France's navy to virtually her pre-war strength.

Christened by Mme. Foch, widow of the immortalized marshal, this naval fighting machine represents the seventh unit added to the fleet during the month of April.

Contrasting sharply with the launching ceremony of the steel warrior, was the sharp challenge of the United States as expressed at Geneva by Hugh Gibson—for immediate reduction of the navies of the big powers.

TOO LATE FOR CORRECTION

The death of Lieut. Howard H. Keefe while stunting his plane about a tri-motored passenger ship at San Diego, is punishment enough, in itself, for the catastrophe which he caused. It will not, however, be any consolation to friends of the other five persons killed, or to the authorities to whom he was responsible.

The reputation of aviation has enough of the unsavory about it through operation of unavoidable weaknesses. Dozens of persons are killed in accidents which are rationalized on a basis of mechanical weakness. Their deaths have been regarded by many as a sacrifice to aeronautical progress and are, on the whole, accepted in good spirit by a critical public.

Accidents caused by poor judgment on the part of experienced fliers are regarded, however, as entirely avoidable. No more consideration should be given the memory of a stunt aviator who jeopardizes the lives of passengers in another ship than is given the Smart Alec of the highways who endangers the lives of motorists by show-off tactics on a crowded highway. The thrill which the reckless motorist tries to give an unwilling public is as justifiable as the thrill which the dead army pilot gave the passengers of the wrecked Maddux air liner at San Diego.

Individual stunting is, probably, a necessary feature in the development of aviation. It is the highest expression of skill in the management of an airplane. As in the case of automobile racing, it has played and will continue to play an important part in the development of safety appliances. It is not, under any conditions, an experimental process to be inflicted on unwilling participants for a thrill or any other reason. There is already too much of a danger element in flying.

Lieut. Keefe's poor judgment in endangering the safety of a passenger carrier caused the deaths of five persons. Beyond a doubt, positive orders controlling a repetition of such a catastrophe will be issued to government pilots. It will certainly do aviation no good, if passengers are burdened with the fear that their ship may be wrecked by the daredevil tactics of unscrupulous stunt fliers.

What Others Say

FANATICISM DOESN'T HELP

The best welfare of the United States demands some orderly modification of the dry law which will have public support and approval, and will further the cause of genuine temperance. The present situation is little less than a disaster and is going from bad to worse. But we do not believe the extravagances of some of the wet rejoinders over the outcome of the recent prohibition act repeal vote in Wisconsin are going to help any.

When the president of the Association Against Prohibition yells: "Which will be the next state to take its place in the ranks of revolt?" he uses an ugly word, and becomes vicious and spiteful, and is going from bad to worse. But we do not believe the extravagances of some of the wet rejoinders over the outcome of the recent prohibition act repeal vote in Wisconsin are going to help any.

Such outbursts suggest cerebral excitement approaching temporary mental unbalance. Their chief result will be to make fanatical wets and fanatical dries both more fanatical than ever, and so make confusion worse confounded. They will tend to widen a breach which must be closed if the prohibition question ever is to be settled in a way that will redound to the good of the nation, and with a minimum of travel through the sea of trouble.

There is little hope that the country ever can be pulled out of its mess until extremists on both sides of the prohibition question are benched while reasoning people with a sense of proportion get together and settle things.

The Stars Say—

For Thursday, April 25

A VERY lively and eventful day is predicted from the prevalent planetary configurations although these may not all operate for success and progress. There is sign of much restlessness and perturbation with a tendency to false moves, snap judgments and perilous extravagances or outbursts under the high stimulus of Mars uniting with the Jupiter-Mercury position. With prudence, good judgment and care in new ventures, there may be some worthwhile advantage in the long run.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a very lively and eventful year, but one of restlessness, aggressiveness and turbulence. With calmness, wise judgment and great care in handling finances all may be well in the end. A child born on this day may be restless, alert, aggressive and under high stimulus, qualifying for success if kept under constant control and wise judgment.

Enthusiasm is a flywheel, judgment is its governor.

WORRY IS A COMMON CAUSE OF INSOMNIA

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
(United States Senator from New York)

One of the most trying of human experiences is the inability to sleep. Even a murderer will give himself up if he cannot sleep. Loss of sleep has driven men and women to suicide. It has made them mad.

The doctors call sleeplessness "insomnia." It is regarded as so important that whole books are devoted to the subject. Insomnia is looked upon as a serious ailment.

There are many causes for sleepless nights. Bad news, fright, shock from any cause, may disturb the nervous system that sleep is out of the question. When the acute agony subsides, gentle sleep will return.

A more serious form of insomnia is that which comes from worry. "Worry killed a cat," the old saying goes. But it isn't the cat alone that suffers. Many a man and many a woman has tossed on beds of worry, utterly unable to sleep. The affairs of the day have become the worries of the night.

Things can be so black about three o'clock in the morning! At that hour life seems indeed hopeless!

Sometimes it is difficult to determine whether worry is the cause of illness or whether illness is the cause of the worry. But there can be no doubt that they are twins.

There are serious ailments of the brain and nervous system that have less of sleep among the prominent symptoms. In that form of insomnia we are not interested today. I want to speak about the simpler and more common types.

Improper diet and irregular habits are sleep destroying. Constipation is capable of generating poisons that have an evil effect upon the nervous system.

It is safe to say that seven persons out of ten who suffer from insomnia are the victims of constipation. Wrong eating habits cause the constipation and then sleeplessness.

ness is added to the chain of symptoms.

Anything that disturbs the heart action may destroy sleep. Drugs, excessive smoking, stimulants of all sorts—in these are other causes for insomnia.

Speaking of drugs, let me beg of you never to resort to them. They should never be taken except on the advice of a physician. If you can't sleep you are sorely tempted to "take something."

Many a life has been ruined by drugs. Sleeping powders, sleeping pills, sleeping drops—all these habitual resort to sleep-producing are dangerous. They lead to drug addiction and to conditions far worse than insomnia.

A tepid bath continued for a quarter of an hour or more will help. A glassful of hot milk, ventilation of the sleeping room, a hot water-bag for the feet—try them before thinking of drugs.

FARM PROBLEM

Beard to give existing private elevator and commission companies the right to function on the same basis as cooperatives, if they render equal service.

Although the house has indicated during debate that it will support the Hoover program, both Reps. Cannon and Jones planned to make vigorous attacks upon the Haugen Bill.

"Mr. Hoover promised to let Congress formulate a bill but never has a president taken more arbitrary action than he did in writing a letter denouncing the export debenture plan," said Cannon. "He promised to make the tariff effective on farm crops, but you must pass the equalization fee bill to do this."

Rep. Linthicum, in proposing an amendment designed to prevent destruction of private business by cooperative marketing associations, gave vent to a quiet campaign that is being carried on against the Haugen Bill.

"The situation is this," explained Linthicum. "If existing businesses will serve the purposes of marketing for which this bill is proposed, they should not be destroyed. We have just sold our ships to get the government out of business; now we propose to set up a gigantic semi-governmental marketing agency."

tough night but it won't be long now."

Mechanics at the field said the stabilizer probably had stuck.

Official recognition of the record-making achievement of Miss Smith was made by a wave of the hand. Harry Booth, representing the National Aeronautical association, who had placed a sealed paragraph in her plane and who remained on the field to time her flight, drew out his watch as the fateful hour of 9:44 arrived. As the second hands ticked past 9:43:56, he looked up and waved his hand. The old record had been surpassed.

Explains Record
Booth explained that a single second would have given Miss Smith the status of a new record maker because, inasmuch as the National Aeronautical association has not, as yet, established an official classification for such a record the association's rule that new records must surpass old ones by at least an hour, did not apply.

Two classes are now recognized. One for sustained flight without refueling and the other for sustained flight while refueling in the air. These take no cognizance of the sex of the pilots or the number of persons in the ship. They consider the performance of the craft itself only. Word that Miss Smith broke the record was flashed by telegraph to G. M. Bellanca, designer of the monoplane in which the girl was flying. He wired back that he was leaving Newcast, Del., immediately, accompanied by Mrs. Bellanca, in a plane to congratulate the new record holder.

Weather conditions were ideal. The sun was shining brightly this morning, the temperature was balmy and the visibility was fine. How much gas Miss Smith had left was not known, of course, but she must have had a sandwich or two left for she took on a good supply when she set out after the new world's mark.

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., April 24—A new saga of the air—an epic of youth and courage and daring—was being written in the clear blue sky above this airport today where Miss Elinor Smith, 17-year-old "flapper pilot," piloted her Bellanca monoplane past her 19th hour of sustained flight at 6:40:44 o'clock this morning.

Her slim figure accentuated by her boyish attire of knickers and windbreaker, Miss Smith clung tenaciously to the controls of her silver-nosed Bellanca monoplane, grimly intent on re-capturing the laurels she once held—the unofficial solo endurance flight for women.

Miss Smith made a businesslike takeoff from the field here at 11:40:44 a. m., yesterday and rang off the monotonous hours all during the day and last night. Admiration of veteran pilots and mechanics was evoked this morning when the first gray streaks of dawn showed her plane steadily circling Roosevelt and Mitchell fields, its Wright whirlwind motor droning out a triumphant song of "all's well," and with every prospect for the girl pilot's success.

Miss Smith must remain in the air until 9:43:56 o'clock this morning in order to break the record of 22 hours, 3 minutes and 12 seconds now held by Miss Louise McPhetridge, of Los Angeles.

Farming Hindered

Tampa, Fla., April 24—The long dry spell in Central Florida is hurting truck farming. Meteorologist Walter J. Bennett of the local weather bureau declares. While the situation is not yet acute, rain is needed "very badly," he said. Artificial irrigation is being resorted to by a number of truck growers, he said.

Boy Admits Robbery

Zanesville, O., April 24—A 13-year-old boy, arrested here by police yesterday in connection with an attempt to break into the building of the Provident Loan company, had today confessed to committing two other burglaries during the night.

WOUNDED MAN STILL CRITICAL

Excitement Over Shooting By Dry Agent In Mansfield Died Down; Bond Has Not Been Fixed

Mansfield, O., April 24—Frank Pellegi, who was shot and seriously wounded April 20, by Edward C. McGaw, state prohibition agent, during a raid on Pellegi's soft drink parlor, where alleged whiskey was found, is still in a critical condition and, pending the outcome of his wounds, the fixing of McGaw's bond by Judge J. W. Galbraith has not been asked by the enforcement officials. Nothing will be done until a grand jury is called May 16, it was learned here today.

Friends of Pellegi in the Italian colony here have contributed to a fund for the defrayment of expenses in the case. They have retained George H. Blecker, former county prosecutor, who will assist G. E. Kahlisch, prosecuting attorney, in the case against McGaw.

Miss Freda Schuster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Schuster, Newgarden st., and Floyd Moul, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Moul, 29 North Union st., were united in marriage Tuesday at Wellsburg, W. Va.

Soviet-Japanese Matters At Crisis

Moscow, April 24—Soviet-Japanese relations are drifting to a crisis. It is less than four years since the countries established diplomatic relations. Though the ill feeling is due largely to the disappointment of Japanese fishing interests over the fisheries convention signed last year with the Soviets, it is feared that the political consequences of the anti-Soviet agitation in Japan may be serious.

The Japanese ambassador, M. Tanaka, who with Viscount Goto was instrumental in signing the fisheries agreement, has been absent on leave from Moscow for more than four months. There is some doubt whether he or any other ambassador will return. The government might decide to appoint M. Sakko as a permanent charge d'affaires.

first amendment to the constitution simply prohibits congress from enacting any law prohibiting free speech or religious liberty. Primarily the right of free speech, etc., rests upon provisions in the constitutions of the states. But if a state passed a statute, the result of which is to suppress free speech, a serious question would be raised as to whether it would not be void as violating the 14th amendment to the federal constitution, which declares that no state shall deny to any person the right to life, liberty or property without due process of law."

Senator George, a former supreme court justice in Georgia, said: "The federal constitution merely restrains congress from passing any law that would infringe the liberty of speech or religious worship."

HEMOWORTH

Earl R. Thomas and Mrs. Margaret Johnson were in Lisbon Saturday.

Follansbee Barber Endorses OWA-TON-NA

To Nervous Run Down People It Proves To Be A Wonderful Discovery

Mr. August Mulley, well known resident of Follansbee, W. Va., says: "Owa-Ton-Na is one of the finest medicines I have ever used. For several years I have been troubled with a stubborn case of constipation which was going from bad to worse. I felt grouchy and irritable most of the time. My nerves were getting on a terrible condition. I was continually feeling tired and all in, at times my joints would pain me a great deal and all in all I felt miserable."

"Then Owa-Ton-Na, an old Indian Remedy, was recommended to me and I decided to try it. Almost from the first dose I noticed a change in my condition. It seemed to take a hold and cleanse my system from top to bottom. Although I have only taken Owa-Ton-Na a short time, I can notice a great change in my condition. Constipation is relieved, my former pep and energy is returning, my appetite has greatly improved and food certainly tastes fine. I can honestly recommend Owa-Ton-Na, the Indian Herb Medicine."

You, too, may find in Owa-Ton-Na just the medicine you have been looking for. The best medicine is when his wife telephoned him. Every window in the front of the house had been broken and the cement steps to the front porch were wrecked.

Police say the two explosions also solve the mysterious blast, April 12, which damaged a home formerly owned by Police Sergeant Mack. The latter has also been active against bootleggers.

Consult Directory
The dynamiters apparently consulted the latest directory and thus went astray in seeking the home of two of their intended victims. Mack and Holland have moved since the directory was published.

Holland is head of the downtown vice and liquor squad, while Mack commanded an automobile squad armed with shotguns which was organized two years ago. Capt. McMaster's work against bootleggers in a precinct station resulted in his recent transfer and instructions to clean up the downtown section.

Chicago, April 24.—An explosion today shook a gold coast apartment building in which Deputy Police Commissioner John Steig resides and for a time it was thought a bomb had been hurled.

Investigation revealed that gas caused the blast in a restaurant on the first floor. About 150 guests were aroused. Flames followed the explosion and caused $5,000 damage.

King Aids Church
Berlin, April 24.—The church of St. George the Angelican church in Berlin, has just received a substantial financial contribution from King George.

The church, a present to the English colony from the then Crown Princess Friedrich, mother of the late Kaiser, on the occasion of her silver wedding anniversary was built in the Monbijou Park in 1886.

The church's funds were rendered worthless by the inflation, and the congregation recently appealed to former English friends for aid. The King responded with a gift from his private purse.

Have Many Guests
Cologne, April 24.—In the first year of its existence the new "Jugendherberge" or youthful hikers' inn at Cologne gave shelter to 67,000 guests, among them visitors from all countries in Europe.

Isle of Brioni Sees Meeting Of Ex-Champ and Author

JAMES J. TUNNEY

GEORGE BERNARD SHAW

Pugilist and Author Have Many Things to Talk Over at Meeting

"SO YOU didn't like 'Cashel Byron's Profession,' Mr. Tunney?"

Thus George Bernard Shaw may address James Joseph Tunney if they meet on the Island of Brioni, in the North Adriatic, where both celebs are spending a few days.

Many sparkling discussions are believed possible, inasmuch as they have expressed a mutual desire to talk with each other. Tunney, really an enigma to American fight fans, has the sort of mind that Shaw would find much delight in classifying. By the same token, Shaw, the playwright, seems to have reached that mental plane toward which the mighty Gene is making rapid strides.

The possibility of their wives, Mrs. Shaw and the former Polly Lauder, finding each other congenial offers another interesting angle which gives rise to many conjectures.

Many unexpected things have happened in this world of ours, but what could be more fantastic than Tunney and Shaw becoming friends. Yet, just such a thing is possible and some persons believe not at all remote. It all depends on how they "click" if they do meet.

Introduce African Boars In Texas
Austin, Texas, April 24.—Texas will soon be the recipient of three wild African boars, to be placed on the famous King ranch in south Texas for the purpose of propagating the breed in Texas, if possible. The animals are to be given by a New York sportsman who requested that his name not be made public, according to announcement by W. J. Tucker, state game, fish and oyster commissioner.

The purpose of the experiment in attempting to propagate this breed of wild animals is to provide South Texas with further wild life for hunting.

Vatican Denies Trip
Vatican City, April 24.—A report from Paris that Pope Pius XI is planning to visit the Holy Land was officially denied today.

An English inventor's rifle for shooting at life from one ship to another or to aid in the rescue of persons in burning buildings carries the line coiled in a cylinder around its barrel.

Barrage of Cans Fails To Hinder Brave Policeman

Dellaire, O., April 24.—A can-throwing woman and a "hexing" grocery store clerk were on the cuts here today. Local police were requested to hasten to a chain store by a woman who said the manager had attacked her. Arriving there, police found the woman clamped the chain store's line. The woman declared the manager had "hexed" her (a la Yoka Pa.) causing her legs and ankles to swell. Then she began hurling cans at the manager and officer. The latter quietly but firmly escorted her from the store.

NEGROES PLAN RACE MEMORIAL AT WASHINGTON

Erect Structure in Nation's Capital in Short Time

Washington, April 24.—Plans are under way for the raising of $500,000 which will provide the negroes of the nation with a new shrine—a memorial building located in the national capital.

Congress having given official approval and aid for the project, leaders of the race anticipate no difficulty in raising funds for the unique project.

While memorials and monuments are a common sight throughout Washington, this will be the first erected as a tribute to a race rather than to an individual or a group. The proposed building would house an auditorium seating 4,000 people, would contain a museum, a gallery, a library and a negro hall of fame.

To Show Rise

The decorations would depict the rise of the negroes in this country from slavery to their present place in the economic system, with the individual accomplishments of members of the race in the art, science and industry extolled.

The proposal for congressional recognition was fathered by Rep. Taylor (R) of Tennessee, the bill passing after stubborn opposition offered by many members of congress.

While the government appropriates $50,000 for the preliminary expenses, it is anticipated that funds for the building will be raised by private subscription.

An organization known as the National Memorial Association, of which Ferdinand D. Lee, custodian of the treasury building is the head, is in charge of the movement.

Under the bill passed by congress, a commission is to be named by the president and a site is to be selected that will harmonize with the development of the city.

Brick Structure

Suggested models of the building call for a brick structure, with the campus of Howard university as the probable site. Howard university, maintained by the government, solely for negroes, occupies a commanding plateau in one of the better sections of the city.

The Dorcas Class of the Methodist Sunday school, taught by Mrs. Walter Smith, were entertained on Thursday evening in the home of Miss Hazel Barton. Visitors were Mrs. Wm. Barton of Columbiana and Mrs. Morrell Weikart and Mrs. Ivan Davis. After the business session, contests entertained and honors were won by Mrs. Ray Davis and Miss Jennie McFee. The hostesses served lunch. The next meeting will be held in the home of Miss Wilma De Jane.

The "Loyal Twelve" class of the Methodist Sunday school were entertained on Thursday evening in the home of Miss Mary E. King. A business session followed with contests entertaining. Honors were won by Clairebelle Konkile and Mary King. The hostess served lunch. Next month the class will be entertained in the home of Miss Anna Cleland.

Morrell Weikart is serving on the jury at Youngstown this week. Mrs. George Morrow spent a few days over the week end with her husband's mother, Mrs. Morrow at Minerva. On her return home on Saturday evening just as she got off the bus at her home she was struck by a car, driven by a man from Salem. Although she received no serious injuries, she was badly bruised up.

Planes Will Aid Town Isolated In Mountain Fastness

Vernal, Utah, April 24.—Vernal, a city of 1,500 people located 150 miles from the nearest railroad, plans to end its isolation from the outside world through the use of airplanes.

A movement was recently started to construct a $25,000 air field, which would pave the way for the establishment of regular air lines both to Denver and to Salt Lake City. It was pointed out that by use of airplanes, inhabitants could make visits to either of these leading cities of the Rocky Mountain region, and return the same day. It now requires as much as three days to visit either city.

Youngest New York Banker Builds 64-Story Structure

New Home of Bank Will Be Second Largest In Country

Everyone thought when the plans were made for the Chicago garment mart, to be completed next year, called for a 75-story structure, that many a year would pass before there would be another to even approach that height.

Imagine the surprise, then, that greets the announcement by 34-year-old George L. Ohrstrom that he heads a syndicate which will build a new home for the Bank of Manhattan, to be 64 stories high, just 44 feet higher than the Woolworth Building, present Metropolitan title-holder.

This enterprising young man was a student of University of Michigan Law School when the United States entered the war, and today is president of G. L. Ohrstrom & Co., prominent firm of investment bankers.

After the completion of the building, which is expected to cost $3,000,000, the Woolworth Building

George L. Ohrstrom

Great Fight Show Scheduled By Mullins Club For Friday

Real Ring Battles To Feature Embroglio At Memorial Hall Gym

As fine a collection of ringmasters as has ever been assembled in the squared circle in Salem, will entertain devotees of the cauliflower racket, at the Memorial building, Friday night, in another all-star fight embroglio staged under the auspices of the Mullins Foreman's club. Four bouts, three of them eight-rounders, featuring swat artists well known through the tri-state district, have been arranged for the evening.

Two old rivals, Fritz Anderson, Detroit, and Johnny Kusie, Youngstown, are billed for the eight round final. K. O. Kelly, of Barabon, and Rudy Thomas, Detroit, will engage in the semi-final, and Alvie Miller, Youngstown trying a comeback, and U. S. Carpenter, one of Reddy Mason's noted Pittsburgh stable, will clash in the first of the feature battles.

Kelly is substituted for Young Rudy, another of Mason's scrappers, due to an injury sustained by Rudy in a recent contest in the Smokey City, but the card will never be hurt by the latter's absence. Kelly has just returned a month or so ago, from a tour through Porto Rico, where he picked everything promoter could get into the same ring with him.

Kelly Holds Title

Kelly has beaten Gorilla Jones, Sals Larden, Jack McVey, Homer Robertson, and other leaders in the water division, and returned to America from the islands with the middleweight championship of Porto Rico dangling to his belt.

Anderson and Thomas are slated to meet in the ring Friday at 128 pounds. The Detroiters has quite a rating in Michigan, and in March was rated third best junior welterweight in the state by boxing promoters. He met Young Rudy here last year, in the most scientific battle held here in years, and lost by a slight margin due mostly to the fact that he was unable to uncork any telling punches.

Kelly's long suit is a quick kayo smack, that gets the opponent before he quite knows what everything's all about, but is also one of the cleverest in the ring. Fandom will in all probability view some of the most thrilling rounds during the battle, both being masters in every art.

Miller In Come Back

Now that Alvie Miller has started a comeback campaign, interest in featherweight circles is again being revived, in the district, for the youth at one time was declared to have a great future ahead of him. Seemingly in more than 60 battles without tasting resin once in an accomplishment few can claim, and he certainly started off towards his goal on the right hoof when he stepped New Castle's touted Romeo Pacelli.

Carpenter is in somewhat the same position, as he has quite a bit of prestige to win back, through his failure to keep up the work he had to his credit a year back. The youngster, Pittsburgh reports state, for a while was going backwards, but lately started off on another winning streak. Both he and Miller will be out for a hasty decision.

Grudge Battle

The same thing is true of the Kusie-Anderson affair, but more so. Both met some time ago in Alliance, and the former won what was termed an overwhelmingly unpopular decision.

Kusie is one of the best around here, and Anderson has a plenty high rating in both Michigan and Ohio, due to his win over Young Rudy in the last Mullins show.

Managers of both battlers say the fight won't go the limit, in fact, Tom Bannon, Kusie's tutor, is certain that it won't. Anderson fans are quite numerous in Salem, and vicinity, and a large delegation will attend from Youngstown, according to Bannon, and there will be plenty of ringside rooting for both.

Preliminary

Keke Jones, of Dover, who made his initial appearance here some time ago, winning an easy decision, will clash with Young Terry McGovern in the six-round preliminary. The opening gong will clang at 8:15. Promoter E. M. Murley, of the Mullins fight committee announces, "Where they will pack all fans is premeditated. At each of the previous Mullins shows addicts did everything but hang to chandeliers to get views of the stellar battles that have featured all the cards, and with the entertainment scheduled for this week that has been announced by Murley, the doors probably won't be held open long before there is a complete sell-out."

Miller has never been floored, and in 1924 was an Olympic prospect, but dropped out to enter professional ranks.

Kayo Predicted In Final Bout

That Johnny Kusie will kayo Fritz Anderson within eight rounds, is the prediction offered by his manager, Tom Bannon, of Youngstown, today.

Anderson and Bannon's protege are slated to vie for swat honors in the final of the Foreman's club show at the Memorial building, Friday night, but the Youngstown ring impresario is emphatic that Anderson will not last the limit with his lad.

"The fans of Salem and vicinity will see Kusie at his best," he states. "I personally expect him to knock Anderson out and I hear that Anderson expects to do the same. If both boys feel that way fans will have a big evening."

"I have turned down main fight offers from Erie, Pittsburgh, and Cincinnati, on account of Johnny's bad hands, and due to the fact I wanted him to be in good shape for Anderson. He is now in excellent condition, and I expect him to win before eight rounds," he adds.

Kusie, he states, has been in 32 fights, and has never been floored for the count.

Spectacles May Become Very Popular On Diamonds

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

New York, April 24.—Stake a ball player to a slovenly season three or four years ago and forthwith he wasn't satisfied until he had somebody in a butcher's shop April fly-casting for his tonsils. Today, the enlightened thinkers of the ball field seem to be headed toward the oculist's, for the be-spectacled Chick Hafey has interested the impulsive young men most strangely with his home runs since the start of the season. And if you don't think so, all you have to do is to tune in on the New York Giants. They estimate that upward of thirty percent of the profession is in need of ocular attention and no less a personage than John McGraw says that most of the batting failures are prompted by defective vision.

A little more of this kind of thing and they'll have three men in every nine gazing pensively upon the national pastime through a set of bi-focals, the social standing of the umpire being elevated accordingly. Pull well do I remember the time when he was the only blind man on the ball field.

The funny thing about the present situation is that Hafey has knocked the boys off on the strength of a two-day performance. He was hitting only .242 this morning and his .208 of the day before might have slipped down among fielding records somewhere if he failed to get two hits against the Cubs yesterday.

The young man, according to the Giants, said in the south that he never realized how big a baseball was until he had his brow measured for the show windows. He told Bob O'Farrell that his bat felt like a lead pencil in his hands and, for the first four days of the opening series with the Cincinnati Reds, he more than looked the part. He drove in four runs in the first game, scored another on a home run and blew himself to a single. Lucas was the victim of that rampage. Three days later, he hit two more homers off Kolp, Kemmer and Zahnner and one of them topped the centerfield wall at Redland field for the first time in history.

That wallop, measuring 417 feet, started all of the dugouts prattling idly about the phenomena and they haven't stopped yet, in spite of the fact that Hafey has—more or less. Good pitching seems to affect him as adversely as it does anybody else, glasses or no glasses. Donohue didn't give him a hit the day he worked against the Cards in Cincinnati nor did Bush and Malone on successive afternoons in Chicago.

Meanwhile, Mr. Hornsby and Mr. Gehrig, who wouldn't even wear glasses as a disguise, seem to be bearing up very bravely in the face of their implied affliction. The former was hitting .474 this morning and the latter .417, while Mr. Ruth, who has been known to use glasses but not on his nose, is obliging with a snappy .231, proving that it all proves nothing.

'OLD GOLD' CHALLENGES AND WINS IN CIGARETTE 'TEST'

Challenging the statement appearing in the columns of THE RECORD of February 26 that Williams men have a distinct preference for cigarettes as proven by the fact that that brand outsells competitors in local shops, the Old Gold company last Friday afternoon conducted one of its famous "concealed name tests" at Williams. As a result, Williams has joined the growing list of colleges and universities which have given Old Gold a plurality in such a contest, for out of the 234 votes cast, the challenging brand received 66 first choices, while two other leading makes could do no more than tie for second place with 59 votes apiece, and a fourth prominent brand received 50 preferences.

To admit no unfairness into the test, each brand of cigarette was denoted by one of five possible numbers, stamped on the black band concealing the name, so that comparison of numbers among those taking the test would have been difficult. The results of the voting, done entirely by number, were checked up by Seelye '29, and A. Clark '30, Business Manager and Assistant Business Manager of THE RECORD.

"HOLD EM YALE"

From pampas to campus. This is the tabloid tale of Rod La Roque in "Hold Em Yale," the collegiate screen vehicle which closes a successful three-day run at the Grand tonight.

La Roque is a dashing, no-good, nondescript son of an Argentine millionaire. His father, in efforts to straighten him up, enters him at Yale, but Monty will have none of the modern education. "He knew too much already" as he termed it, but the advent of the Yale professor's daughter into the pampas, where La Roque becomes involved in a holdup of her machine, quickly alters his ideas of education in America.

He comes to Yale, made the butt of jokes by sophomores, until finally, in efforts to get the good graces of Miss Bradbury, who, by the way is Jeanette Loff at her best—takes up boxing. He doesn't do much good in the squared circle, however, and gets knocked by the Princeton champ in the opening round of his debut, and takes up football.

The whole picture is a remarkable success for La Roque and his supporting cast, in which Miss Loff and Tom Kennedy, a scream as a dumb "bull" take starring honors.

"WALKING BACK"

Sue Carol, the winsome little miss who has won fame in cinema words by her stellar characterization of younger roles, and Richard Waring, a comer in acting, play leading roles in "Walking Back," at the State for the final showing tonight.

The inevitable question of whether modern youths' mode of living is correct is again brought to the force, and in more vivid manner than ever before.

There comes tonight to the Royal Theatre a photoplay entitled "The House of Shame," which merits the attention of all admirers of the silent drama.

But four principal characters unfold this story, which is one of average people and a theme which is more than average. It tells of a young married couple apparently happily living together. The husband, however, is cheating in every sense of the word. He is stealing from his employer and lavishing his stolen money on another woman. Accidentally the wife learns of the thefts and offers to intercede with his employer. Then the husband literally attempts to sell his wife as his employer. The employer becomes ashamed of his bargain and tries to right matters, but only succeeds in injecting further complications. How it is all straightened out in the most logical and satisfactory manner is what makes "The House of Shame" decidedly worth while.

HOME-MAKING HELPS

By Wanda Barton

Home dry-cleaning is becoming a lost art—fortunately—now that professional cleaners are abundant and moderate in their charges. And the safest way to cleanse most clothes is to let a reliable dry-cleaning establishment take the responsibility.

However, there are times when it is necessary to take out stains at home, and fresh fruit season is the time. They should be removed as soon as possible—after some time has elapsed it isn't so easy. One way to remove fresh fruit stains from any material is to pour boiling water over the spot. Sometimes this does not work. Another way is to cut a lemon in half, dip it in salt, and rub over the spot. But this can be done only with washable garments because the article must be washed immediately after this treatment.

If cleaning fabrics is difficult at home, it is made up by the ease with which other cleaning is now handled. Silver cleaning was once a laborious job, and a whole day had to be set aside for it. Now only the few large pieces have to be secured individually with special polish. The drama of socks and

Commercial Traveler Who Knocked Out a Bad Case of Catarrh of Stomach

Story of How He Saved His Job And Won Prosperity Through World's Tonic

"I was on the verge of losing my job on account of my sickness when I began the use of World's Tonic over a year ago. I want you to know that the past season has been the most successful I have ever had. I feel that I owe much of my prosperity and good health to World's Tonic, and I am here to tell you so."

This frank statement as pleading as a useful overture, was like music in the ears of the World's Tonic representative.

A traveling man from a large city, concerned of national reputation, came to the World's Tonic man many months ago seeking to escape the clutches of catarrh of the stomach, which gripped him like a vise. A few weeks' use of World's Tonic and he went back on the road declaring he was stronger than ever before.

Recently he was in Stevensville and it was during a call of appreciation that he gave World's Tonic credit for his happiness during the last twelve months. He says:

"When I called on a merchant I did not have strength enough to show my samples as I should. My sales fell off very rapidly and the house had another man picked to take my place. It was at this time I found World's Tonic. It has been a blessing to me and has put dollars in my pocket. I was troubled with my stomach and had used all kinds of stomach medicines without results. I was finally told I had cancer of the stomach. My arms and legs ached and I could hardly get through a day's work. Gas formed on my stomach after each meal and I had a bad taste in my mouth at all times. Upon arising each morning I would spit up handfuls of mucus. If I stooped over and got up quickly, dark spots would float before my eyes and at times I was so dizzy I would have to catch hold of something to keep from falling. My tongue was always coated and my breath heavy. My wife often told me it smelled like a garbage can. My head was stuffed up and I could not reach the roof until I began to use World's Tonic. From the first bottle I began to show improvement. World's Tonic certainly did the work for me. I am on the job every day. I don't have any more trouble with my stomach and can eat anything I want. My head is clear and I haven't had a cold this winter."

If you suffer from any form of catarrh, get World's Tonic at J. H. Lease Drug Store or any other reliable druggist. (A-1081) A-1081

Soft water keeps clothes white

HARD water always leaves clothes gray, no matter how much you wash and rinse. Hard water has something in it with which the soap combines. Scum forms at once. This scum gets into clothes. You never can rinse it all out.

Softener hard water with Melo and you have a very fine cleaner, with or without soap. Scum doesn't form in this water. Clothes washed in it are as white as snow. Melo gives soap more effect on clothes. Get a can of Melo today at your grocer's.

From one banker to another—

"The car to buy is CHRYSLER"

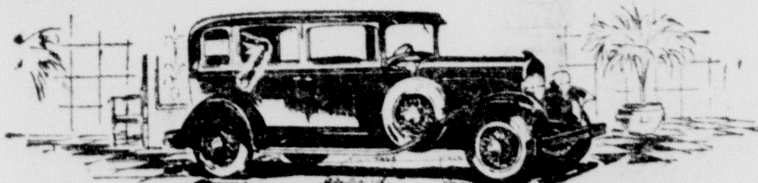

A certain prominent banker heard that another banker, a good friend of his, was considering the purchase of a new motor car. Impelled by a friendly desire to be helpful, the first banker took the time and trouble to write the letter from which we quote:

"I now have my second Chrysler," the letter reads. "Both the Chrysler '72' and '75' have shown more ability than any of the other cars I have ever owned. And, too, ability of more than one kind."

"The Chrysler has roadability. In traffic congestion or on the open road, it is both spry and safe."

"It has durability. Out of four cents per mile that I set aside in a special fund for tires, repairs, replacements, insurance, taxes, license, and depreciation, I found, after paying the difference between my car and the new one, I had $116 left of this special fund."

*Names of both bankers on request.
